

Mufti Saad Haque

Northern Virginia | (703)640-8988 | rshaque22@gmail.com

Overview

Mufti Saad Haque grew up and began his early education in New Jersey before traveling to New York City to pursue higher traditional Islamic knowledge. He studied at Darul Uloom New York for nearly 11 years, where he completed both the memorization of the Quran and the Alim course. During this time, he earned multiple authorizations (ijazaat) with chains of narration (asaneed) in various Islamic sciences, including Fiqh, Aqeedah, Usool, Hadith, and Tafseer. He then traveled to Darul Iftaa Mahmudiyyah in Durban, South Africa and studied for two years under the world-renowned scholar and Islamic finance expert, Mufti Ebrahim Desai (may Allah have mercy on him). Through rigorous training, he was granted authorization (ijazah) to issue legal verdicts (fatawa), gaining advanced expertise in Islamic law and finance.

Since returning to the United States, Mufti Saad Haque has been serving the Muslim community through a range of leadership, educational, and advisory roles. He has been the Religious Director of Zakaria Islamic Academy, overseeing all aspects of community life, including prayer services, educational programs, counseling, fundraising, and management of a team of Imams and teachers. He also serves as Director of Sara International Travel, leading groups annually for Hajj and Umrah. As the Resident Scholar for UIF, he provides nationwide guidance on Islamic finance solutions. As a fundraiser, he has helped multiple charities raise millions of dollars for humanitarian causes. He is a founding member of the DMV Ulama Council, executive board member of NAIF, and serves on the advisory board of multiple institutions. He also teaches advanced Islamic texts online to students nationwide.

He is fluent in English, Arabic, Urdu, and Bangla, which enables him to engage effectively with a broad spectrum of the American Muslim community. He frequently travels across the country to deliver lectures, advise organizations, and support both local and national initiatives, demonstrating a consistent commitment to education, community leadership, and humanitarian service.
